The headquarters of the Yugoslav Civilian Air Force is located at Zemun. Its executives are:

Paolo Ornjansel	Chief
Milan Borisek	Chief Instructor
Ante Tabakovic	Director of the Traffic
Major General Djordje Jovanovic	S.M.E. (sic) representative
Colonel Misa Zivanovic	S.M.E. (sic) representative
Boleslav Ivkovic	Director of the air services

The air services are carried out by the Justa and J.A.T. companies, with head offices at Zemun. The propaganda center for civilian aviation is at Vrsac.

2. The monthly salaries for civilian instructors are as follows:

Model instructors	3,000 to 5,000 dinars
Glider instructors	3,000 to 4,600 dinars
Parachutist instructors	3,400 to 5,000 dinars
Pilot instructors	3,600 to 6,000 dinars

3. Two airplanes of the "Lightening", twin-engine type, which were appropriated by the Yugoslavs during the war, were recently under repair at the industrial factories at Rakovica. In September 1948 the necessary spare parts had arrived in considerable quantities from an unidentified factory abroad.

4. Mission of Engineer Giurich in Belgium

Engineer Giurich, an official of the Yugoslav Ministry for trade with foreign countries, who some time ago carried out negotiations with the Fiat Company for the purchase of patent rights for the construction in Yugoslavia of vehicle and airplane engines, has recently left Belgrade for Belgium, in order to contact the directors of the Sabena Company, with offices at No. 145, Rue Royale, Brussels. The arrival of Giurich in Belgium
